We used Arkom Interiors to design and fitout our new offices. The prospect of working out the layout and getting a quality finish was quite daunting but after contacting Arkom and speaking with Andrew I felt the burden had been lifted and I knew that we were in good hands.

The office layout design that Andrew came up with was an excellent start. The help received to choose appropriate materials and colours was very good. It was obvious Arkom knew their business and also knew how to provide excellent customer satisfaction.

We are really happy with the quality of the finish and would be very happy to recommend them to other organisations contemplating an office fitout or redevelopment.
